then, occasional volleys and isolated ri-ne shots were heard in different quar-ters, the troops having received orders to shoot any person appearing in the Dead Lie in the Streets.

The dead were carted off to the ceme-teries in military wagons, the troops act-ing as undertakers. But this morning many dead and wounded were still lying in the streets and courtwards. Terrible, indeed, is the plight of the wounded, for medical slid is unobtainable and many are dying from the lack thereof.

There was a renewal of bloodshed this morning. A regiment of dragoons and one of infantry have been ordered hence from Warsaw.

Casualties Are Appalling.

The casualties are Appaining.

The casualties up to noon add eighteen billed or wounded to yesterday's appailing total. So far as yet ascertained, 130 persons were killed outright during the fighting of Friday and forty-one more died in the hospitals during the night. Of the wounded 220 sustained only slight injuries, which were attended to on the pot by the ambulance surgeons. All the hospitals of the city are filled to overflowing and owing to the insufficient number of beds many of the wounded are lying on the floors.

Business Is Deadlocked.

Business Is Deadlocked.

All the shops, stores and factories are closed and business is at a complete deadlock.

The rioters this morning attempted to set fire to the Government offices, but were scattered by a strong force of treats.

REVOLUTIONARY IS ABROAD.

His Taste for Blood Is Not Yet Appeased.

LODZ. June 24.-Since the arrival of reinforcements this morning actual fighting in the city has stopped, but the outbreak is by no means quelled, and fresh collisions are expected momentarily. The city resembles a shambles, and the terrible scenes of the last two days will never be wiped from the memory of the Pollah people. Altogether ten regiments are encamped in Lodz.

Fighting Spirit Aroused.

The fighting spirit Aroused.

The fighting spirit of the people is fully aroused. They have tasted blood and want more. Certainly the revolutionary is abroad, and it remains to be seen whether military measures will have the same effect as previously.

Today at Baluty, a suburb of Lodz, four Cossacks were killed and sixteen others wounded by a bomb which was shrown into their barracks. Twenty-three of their horses were killed.

Occasional volleys are still fired by police or gendarmes in response to shots from houses.

Soldiers Kill Women.

Soldiers Kill Women.

The soldiers are showing what appears to be wanton cruelty. Late this afternoon they shot and killed two women, a mother and her daughter.

The funerals of victims of the shooting of Thursday and Friday took place today surreptitiously in various outlying villages.

Can't Get Exact Casualties.

Can't Get Exact Casualties.

It is quite impossible to give the exact number of killed and wounded, as reports vary according to the quarter from which they are obtained. Certainly the killed number more than a hundred, possibly two hundred, and the wounded five times as many.

An official report says the number of casualties was largely increased by the neglect of persons to remain indoors, and of others who insisted on looking out of doors and windows when volleys were be-doors and windows when volleys were be-ling fired upon the rioters by the soldiers. Residents of the city say that they re-ceived no orders to remain indoors.

Jews Couldn't Bury Dead.

The present trouble began at Lodz last Tuesday after the funeral of the victims of the conflict between troops and terrorists the previous Sunday. The Christians were permitted to bury their dead, but the Jews were prohibited from doing so, and the police secretly interred the bodies of the Jews at night, which excited indignation and terrorist riots were initiated Thursday.

Rioters Crazed by Drink.

The most serious phase of the rioting developed when the crowd deliberately pillaged liquor shops and numbers of persons, inflamed by drink, led a crowd of at least 50,000 to further and more seri-

Kill Many Police.

Police and military were attacked wherever they appeared in small forces and many individual members were killed.

After pillaging the liquor shops the crowd set fire to them and prevented the firemen from extinguishing the blazes. This was repeated deliberately at many places.

Contagion Catches Children.

Friday the fury of the mob found full vent, and even children, caught by the contagion, were seen kissing red flags and heard swearing that they were ready to die for liberty. A Jewish girl mounted a box in the market square and addressed an impresse growd. an immense crowd.

Young Joan Is Shot Dead.

Suddenly the police appeared, fired a volley and the sirl fell dead.

Market gardeners coming in were stopped and their carts used in building barricades. Wires were stretched in front of these barricades and the cavalry was unable to charge.

Meanwhile the mob had secured arms, and revolvers were freely used. Finally, the military secured the upper hand, but not without considerable losses to themselves and fearful glaughter to the rioters.

Soldiers Utterly Careless.

The soldiers exhibited the utmost care-lessness as to whether they killed peace-ful persons or rioters, and as a conse-quence many women and children were among the dead. The streets on Friday resembled a battlefield. The houses were barricaded with hoards and mattresses, and for hours volleys and individual shots were heard in every quarter of the city.

Cossacks Collect Dead.

Until late at night the Cossacks were busy collecting bodies of the dead and picking up persons seriously wounded. The bodies were carried off in carts to neighboring church yards. Hence the impossibility of giving an accurate estimate of the dead until order is completely restored, if, indeed, the full story is over told.

Terrorists Work With Soldiers. Terrorists are energetically fomenting agitation among the soldiers by distributing revolutionary proclamations and pamphlets, but their efforts are without effect.

Offers for Stories.

Some newspapers of the East have made offers to the girls to publish a given amount in their pages on certain dates, these offers now being under consideration. The girls will also represent some Eastern business concerns. They will also take with them a large amount of souvenirs of Utah to seil, and will send back to those who have contracted with them souvenirs from the countries through which they will travel. Among these will be the souvenir postal cards, the craze for which is rapidly increasing, especially in Germany and France. Two illustrations of foreign postal cards are given in this article. Many messages have also been entrusted to them to take to friends in other lands, for which they will be paid. Some of these souvenirs of Utah will be handled for the young ladies by the newsboys on the trains on which they ride.

Daughters of Pioneers at Calder's.

Nearly All the Speakers Descendants of Former Head of Church.

There Were Speeches and Poems and Songs, Major Young Being the Principal Orator.

Daughters of the Ploneers gathered at Calder's park yesterday afternoon and did honor to the memory of Brigham Young and those who accompanied him on that long march across the trackless plains. In speeches, poems and songs did their sons and daughters commemorate their virtues and deeds. Practically all the speakers were descendants of Brigham Young and most of what was said centered around his life, death and achievements. The programme concluded with some fancy drills cleverly executed by little grandchildren and great-grand-children of the Pioneers

Susa Young Gates Presides.

Susa Young Gates Presides.

The exercises were conducted by President Susa Young Gates, who paid a fitting tribute to the work and achievements of Brigham Young and the Pioneers in calling the assemblage to order. After a fervent prayer by Morris Young, Zina Young Card discussed the subject, "Brigham Young as a Father." She described him as a most tender and loving father, who, with all his greatness, was yet humble and lived in his home a life that approached the ideal. In his demands he was never unreasonable and his children delighted to obey him.

As Friend of Prophet.

As Friend of Prophet.

In considering the subject, "Brigham Young as a Friend of the Prophet Joseph," Maria Young Dougail said: "Great men are capable of great friendship and of such a character was theirs. From their very first meeting Brigham Young learned to love Joseph and ever defended him. His admiration and love for the Boy Prophet was unbounded, as is evident from the fact that he spent his life in carrying on the work Joseph began."

Major Young Principal Orator.

Major Young Principal Orator.

Maj R. W. Young delivered the principal address of the afternoon. "We cannot appreciate," he said, "what it must have meant to the Pioneers to enter this barren and desolate valley with the idea of making it their future home. The descriptions that came to them while on their journey were sufficient to make them shun the place, and their first look at the valley from the mouth of Emigration canyon gave them no cause for new hope. But the Lord, through his prophet, Brigham, had designated it as their home, and who today will dare deny that He was right." Continuing, he said:

"The Mormons will long and justly be remembered as those who first faced and solved the great probile of irrigation and by so doing they made the first and greatest step in reclaiming the arid West. But much as Brigham Young will be re-

Sinister Rumors That Linevitch Is Surrounded Continue to Circulate, but Are Doubted.

ST PETERSBURG, June 24 .- Information from the front is still scanty. While the preliminaries are in progress a general engagement has not been begun. Gen. Linevitch's latest report is dated June 20, but the Associated Press dispatches from Godzyadani record a reconnalssance in force against the Japanese right on June 21.

The Japanese were found to have strongly fortified in this region three lines of defense, probably as usual strongthened in the center by entrenchments in order to liberate forces to work on the flanks.

Sinister Rumors Afloat.

Sinister rumors continue to circulate that Linevitch is surrounded, but apparently they have not other basis than the London Daily Telegraph's dispatch from Tokio. An optimistic feeling prevails at the officers of the general staff.

The negotiations for a meeting of peace plenipotentiaries are proceeding slowly. There were no developments today. Foreign Minister Lamsdorff is still ill and unable to see Embassador Moyer, but perhaps they will hold a conference tomorrow. It is improbable that an armistice will be arrangeable until the plenipotentiaries are named and the time of the meeting is fixed. Brigham Young as Architect.

Brigham Young as an Architect.

"Brigham Young as an Architect" proved an interesting subject in the hands of Don Carlos Young. After noting some of the architectural beautics of the Temple, he said: "Brigham Young saw the Temple in a vision before one stone of its foundation was laid. As a child I thought that he perceived every detail of the structure, but subsequent investigation has proven this idea to be erroncous. The Lord gave him no plans or drawings and the original specifications required that the superstructure be of adobe. President Woodruff had also had a vision on the subject and he favored the use of white marble. An investigation followed with the result that granite was selected for the purpose. Brigham Young was not alone in the work. He was assisted by competent engineers. He simply gave the general idea and left them to work out the revealed plan according to the principles of architecture. He had the ability to put each man where he was best and never falled to choose the wisest counsellors. The great Tabernacle and theater stand as monuments to his common sense and the industry of the men associated with him."

"Reminiscences" was the subject of an original poem written especially for the occasion by Emmeline B. Wells.

Early in the afternoon a business meeting was held. The rules of the association were suspended and eligible candidates on recommendation of two members were allowed to join the grganization. Eight persons took advantage of the opportunity, President Susa Young Gates announced that she had selected as her counsellors Alice Kimball Smith and Anna Groesbeek.

Club Elects Officers.

At the annual meeting of the Seekers' Literary club, held Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. William Yaney, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Mrs. Beless, president: Mrs. McCullough, vice-president: Mrs. Robert Thomson, secretary: Mrs. Gwens, treasurer; Mrs. Brennan, critic; Mrs. Sawyor, parliamentarian. July 7 was selected as field day for the club, when its members will enjoy an outing at Saltair.

RECEPTION TO STUDENTS.

Faculty Utah University Entertains in Assembly Hall.

The assembly hall of the Museum building at the University of Utah was the scene of a very pleasant social gathering Friday evening, when members of the faculty, students and friends to the number of more than 200 enjoyed the informal reception given by the faculty to the students of the school. President Stewart was master of ceremonies and, in his customary happy vein, presented those taking part in the brief programme.

Several mandolin selections were given in pleasing style by the Home Mandolin and Guitar club, the members including Mrs. Allen and her sons, Frank, David and George. Dr. and Mrs. Ebaugh favered the guests with two plane duets, vered the guests with two plane duets, after which Miss Emily C. Jessup, instructor in music at the summer school, delighted those present with a number of children's songs, illustrating the regular work in her department. The closing number of the programme was a brief address by President Joseph T. Kingsbury, in which he called attention to the opportunities afforded by the summer school for students in various branches, and congratulated the school upon the successful work done in years past. Then followed the reception and dance, which were greatly enjoyed by all present.
